9th International Shell Show and Symposium in Muzee Scheveningen on April 17 and 18, 2010

This year the Dutch Malacological Society will for the ninth time organise a large, international shell fair, this time in association with Muzee Scheveningen.

The Shell Fair will be held in Muzee Scheveningen, a new regional museum featuring one of the most extensive collections of shells in the Netherlands, situated at the Neptunusstraat 90-92 in The Hague.

The date for the show is set for April 17 and 18, 2010. Furthermore it has been decided to organise the spring meeting of the N.M.V. on Saturday April 17 in Muzee.

Visiting hours:

Saturday April 17: from 10:00 to 17:00 hours.

Sunday April 18: from 10:00 to 16:00 hours.

Entry:

Members of the N.M.V. and donors of Muzee Scheveningen: free

Others € 2,-. Children up to 12 years old: € 1.-

Place:

Muzee Scheveningen, Neptunusstraat 90-92, 2586 GT The Hague.

SHUTTLEBUS ROUTE

Transport:

Car:

In light of the very restrictive park possibilities around Muzee Scheveningen, the best alternative is the covered and monitored car park at the Zwolsestraat 426.

Please note: the maximum height is 1.90 m, and therefore unsuitable for passenger buses. During the entire weekend between 08:00 hrs. and 19:00 hrs. free shuttle buses will commute between the car park and the museum. These shuttle buses are, if necessary, able to be summoned via telephone number 0031 70-3500830. The route of the shuttle buses has been depicted on a map seen above.

The costs of the car park amount to € 2,- per hour, with a maximum of € 12,- for a whole day.

Public transportation:

From The Hague Central railway station, take tram line 9: alight at the Stevinstraat tram stop. From The Hague Hollands Spoor, take tram line 9: alight at the Stevinstraat tram stop or tramline 1: alight at the Badhuiskade tram stop.
